POETRY.

For the Commercial.

THE SABBATH EVENING.

How beautiful the steeping sun doth trace
And on each waning cloud its glories gild;
How still the night as day's warm blushing face
Sinks gently down! The sky above is filled With stars, beyond whose realms our hopes do build
Their rest; The moon walks grandly on her round,
In whose full face the sparkling dews distill
By her cold touch, reflect their charms; no sound
Of work is heard, and all is peace and life profound.

Was it not love of an eternity,
God-like and high as mortal aim can go,
That caused those heroes of antiquity
To link their names to some bright star
Whose glow
Of endless light foreshadows here below
Something of immortality? To write
Our names among the stars is but to show
Our high desire to leave a fame as bright,
Earnest of endless life in realms of purer light.

Ye flaming suns, and orbs that ceaseless roll
Along the embattled skies your bright array,
Whose majesty uplifts and charms the soul,
Companion of your high and trackless way,
Shall your bright armor beam eternal day?
Is mind then doomed to death, so soon o'erawed,
By fate, or chance, a creature of decay,
The image and reflection of your day,
Whose depths are yet unknown, Whose heights untrod?

Roll on, ye beautifully beaming host,
No envious thoughts within this breast shall rise
To break the pleasing charm in which I'm
lost;
On Faith's triumphant wing my spirit flies Above your spheres, and stooping on the sky's

Bright battlements, it stays awhile to rest
Its pinions there, and feast its wondering eyes,
Then soars away, in God's own radiance
dressed,
To live with Him above, and be for ever blest.

ON THE DEATH OF LINCOLN.

BY MRS. O. G. NEVINS.

They have slain our noble chieftain—
Slain him in his glory's prime;
To the cause of freedom martyr—
God has made his death sublime,
But the shock, the fearful waking,
In our day of wildest joy,
Dashed to earth the cup of gladness,
All our fondest hopes destroy.

All so loved his noble nature—
On his honor so relied—
All so trusted in his wisdom—
All hearts sank when LINCOLN died.
Not alone the nation mourneth
In this hour—this sad, dark hour,
Wife, and sons, and friends are weeping,
O'er his tomb their sorrows pour.

They have slain our noble chieftain—
Slain him in his glory's prime;
To the cause of freedom martyr—
God has made his death sublime!
Black Earth, Wm., April 19th, 1865.

A DIRGE.

Blend white and black crape as the trappings
of woe;
The signs of the grief which a people must show;
For never was nation so moved to bemoan
A statesman it lost, or a crime that was done.

The conflict of arms Hope had trusted was passed,
As War, dreadful War, in his dying bed
gashed—
Relieved of his presence, Peace spoke from above
To the agonized soul in the accents of love:

While thus to the heart came a balm of repose,
With the beauty and fragrance of Spring's blushing rose,
A foul crime of blood startled all with its deed,
And the wounds that were closed now re-open
to bleed.

With breast torn with anguish our country
lies low,
And the soul of the nation is crushed with
its woe,
For the heart and the head of its might and
its power
Met with murder and death in tranquility's hour.

'Twas he for his country that struggled the most,
Who never despaired let who would deem it
lost,
Whose grief for the blood had so gushingly
flowed,
Is recorded at last in the warmth of his own.

Oh, Father of Mercy, is there nothing to shield—
Must our country groan on with its wounds
never healed?
Or may Violence die on the grave of the Just,
And Union, not Hatred, arise from his dust?

SESSION ON THE DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT.

BY REV. H. WARD BEECHER.

"And Moses went up from the plains of Moab, unto the mountain of Nebo to the top of Pisgah, that is over against Jericho; and the Lord showed him all the land of Gilead, unto Dan and all Naphtali, and the land of Ephraim, and Manasse, and all the land of Judah unto the utmost sea, and the south, and the plain of the valley of Jericho, the city of palm trees unto Zor. And the Lord said unto him: This is the land which I swear unto Abraham, unto Isaac and unto Jacob saying, I will give it unto thee; I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither. So Moses, the servant of the Lord, died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord."

There is no historic figure more noble than that of the Jewish law-giver.
After so many thousand years, the figure of Moses is not diminished, but stands up against the background of early days distinct and individual as if he had lived but yesterday. There is scarcely another event in history more touching than his death. He had borne the great burden of State for forty years, shaped the Jews to a nation, filled out their civil and religious polity, administered their laws, guided their steps, or dwelt with them in all their journeyings in the wilderness;
he mourned in their punishment, kept step with their march, and led them in wars, until the end of their labors drew nigh. The last stage was reached—Jordan only lay between them and the promised land. The promised land—Oh, what yearnings had heaved his breast for that divinely promised place.
He had dreamed of it by night, and mused by day. It was holy and endeared as God's favored spot. It was to be the cradle of an illustrious history.
All his long, laborious and now weary life, he had aimed at this as the consummation of every desire, the reward of every toil and pain. Then came the word of the Lord to him, "thou mayest not go over. Get thee up unto the mountain, look upon it and die."

From that silent summit the hoary
leader gazed to the north, to the south, to the west with hungry eyes. The dim outlines rose. The hazy recesses spoke of quiet valleys between the hills. With eager longing, with sad resignation, he looked upon the promised land. It was now to him a for-bidden land. It was a moment's anguish. He forgot all his personal wants and drank in the vision of his people's home. His work was done. There was lay God's promise fulfilled. There was the seat of coming Jerusalem; there the city of Judah's King; the sphere of judges and prophets; the mount of sorrow and salvation; the nest whence were to fly blessings innumerable to all mankind. Joy chased sadness from every feature, and the prophet laid him down and died.

Again a great leader of the people
has passed through toil, sorrow, battle and war, and come near to the promised land of peace, into which he might not pass over. Who shall recount our martyr's suffering for this people?
Since the November of 1860, his horizon has been black with storms. By day and by night he trod a way of danger and of darkness. On his shouldered a government dearer to him than his own life. At its integrity millions of men were striking at home.
Upon this Government foreign eyes lowered. It stood like lone island in a sea full of storm; and every tide and wind seemed eager to devour. Upon thousands of hearts, great sorrows and anxieties have rested, but not on one such, and in such measure, as upon that simple, truthful, noble soul, our faithful and sainted Lincoln. Never rising to the enthusiasm of more impassioned natures in hours of hope, and never sinking with the mercurial in hours of defeat to the depths of despondency, he held on with immovable patience and fortitude, putting caution against hope, that it might not be premature, and hope against caution, that it might not yield to dread and danger.
He wrestled ceaselessly, through four black and perilous years, wherein God was cleansing the sin of this people as by fire.

At last, the watcher beheld the gray dawn for the country. The mountains began to give forth their forms from out the darkness; and the east came rushing towards us with arms full of joy for all our sorrows. Then it was for him to be glad exceedingly, that had sorrowed immeasurably. Peace could bring to no other heart such joy, such rest, such honor, such trust, such gratitude. But he looked upon it as Moses looked upon the promised land: Then the wail of a nation proclaimed that he had gone from among us. Not thine sorrow, but ours, sainted soul.—
Thou hast indeed entered the promised land, while we are yet on the march.—
To us remains the rooking of the deep,
the storm upon the land, days of duty
and nights of watching; but thou art despered high above all darkness and fear, beyond all sorrow and weariness.
Rest, oh, weary heart! Rejoice exceedingly, thou that hast enough suffered! Thou hast beheld Him who invisibly led thee in this great wilderness.
Around thee are the royal men that have ennobled human life in every age.
Kindly art thou, with glory on thy brow as a dragoon. And joy is upon thee forever more. Over all this land, over all the little cloud of years that now from thy infinite horizon moves back as a speck, thou art lifted up as high as the star above the clouds that hide us but never reach it. In the goodly company of Mount Zion thou shalt find that rest which thou hast sought sorrowing in vain; and thy name an everlasting name in heaven, shall flourish in fragrance and beauty as long as men shall last upon the earth, or hearts remain, to revere truth, fidelity and goodness.

Never did two such orbs of experience meet in one hemisphere as the joy and sorrow in the same week in this land. The joy was as sudden as if no man had expected it, and as entrancing
as if it had fallen a sobriety from heaven.
It rose up from a sphere, from a business from its mooring, and ran down through the land in broadest course. Men embraced each other in brotherhood that were strangers in the flesh. They sang or prayed, or de-voiced, many could only thanksgiving and weep gladness; that peace was sure; that government was firmer than ever; that the land was cleansed of plague; that the ages were opening to our footsteps, and we were to begin a march of blessings; that blood was washed, and scowling enemies were sinking like storms beneath the horizon;
that the dem-fatherland, nothing lost,
much gained, was to rise up in unexpected honor among the nations of the earth—these thoughts and that unchis-table thought of a brighter and more hopeful, desires and yearnings that filled the soul with trembling like the heated air of midsummer days—all these kindled up such a surge of joy as no words
may describe.

In one hour joy lay without a pulse,
without a gleam or breath. A sorrow came that swept through the land as huge storms sweep through the forest and field, rolling thunder along the sky, disheveling the flowers, daunting every singer in thicket or forest, and pouring blackness and darkness across the land and up the mountains. Did ever so many hearts in so brief a time,
touch two such boundless feelings?
It was the uttermost of joy; it was the uttermost of sorrow—noon and midnight without a space between.

The blow brought not a sharp pang.
It was so terrible that at first it stunned sensitivity. Citizens were like men awakened at midnight by an earthquake and bewildered to find everything that they were accustomed to trust wavering and falling. The very earth was no longer solid. The first feeling was the least. Men waited to get straight to feel. They wandered in the streets as if groping after some impending dread, or undeveloped sorrow, or some one to tell them what ailed them. They met each other as if each would ask the other, "am I awake or do I dream?" There was a piteous helplessness. Strong men bowed down and wept. Other and common griefs belonged to some in chief; this belonged to all. It was each and every man's.
Every virtuous household in the land felt as if its firstborn was gone. Men were bereaved, and walked for days,
as if a corpse lay in their dwellings.
There was nothing else to think of—
They could speak of nothing but that;
and yet of that they could speak only faintly. All business was laid aside. Pleasure forgot to smile. For joy for nearly a week, ceased to roar.
The great Leviathan lay down and was still. Even avian stood still and gazed was strangely moved to generalized sympathy and universal sorrow.
Rare to his name monuments, found charitable institutions, and wrote his name above their lintels; but no monument will ever equal the universal, spontaneous and sublime sorrow that in a moment swept down lines and parties, and covered up animosities,
and in an hour brought a divided people into unity of grief and indivisible fellowship of anguish.

For myself, I cannot yet command that quietness of spirit needed for a just and temperate delineation of a man whom goodness has made great. Leaving that if it please God, to some other occasion, I pass to some considerations aside from the martyr President's character which may be fit for this hour's instruction.

I. Let us not mourn that his departure was so sudden, nor fill our imagination with horror at its method.—
Men, long eluding and evading sorrow, vindicated in this experience as they never were before; and the whole history of the last four years, rounded up by this cruel stroke seems to have been in the Providence of God, clothing with an illustration, with an aptness, and with a significance, such as we never could have expected or imagined.—God, I think, has said, by the voice of this event, to all nations of the earth—"Republican liberty, based upon true Christianity, is firm as the foundations of the globe."

5. Even he who now sleeps has by this event been clothed with new influence. Dead, he speaks to men who now willingly hear what before they refused to. Now his simple and weighty words will be gathered like those of Washington, and your children, and your children's children shall be taught to ponder the simplicity and deep wisdom of utterances, which, in their time passed in the party heat as idle words. Men will receive a new impulse of patriotism for his sake, and will guard with zeal the whole country which he loved so well. I swear you, on the altar of his memory, to be more faithful to the country for which he has perished. (Applause.) They will, as they follow his hearse, swear a new hatred to that slavery against which he warred, and which, in vanquishing him, has made him a martyr and a conqueror.

And I swear you, by the memory of this martyr to hate slavery with an unappeasable hatred. They will admire and imitate the firmness of this man—his inflexible consciousness for the right and yet his gentleness, as tender as a woman's, his resolution of spirit, which not all the heat of party could inflame, nor all these jars and disturbances shake out of place. I swear you to an emulation of his justice, and his moderation.

You I can comfort, but how can I speak to that twilight million to whom his name was as the name of an angel of God? There will be weeping in places where no ministers shall be able to reach. When, in hovel and in cot, in wood and in wilderness, in the fields throughout the south, the dusky children who looked upon him as that Moses whom God sent to lead them out of the land of bondage, learn that he has fallen, who shall comfort them?—Oh, thou Shepherd of Israel, that didst comfort thy people of old, to thy care we commit the helpless, the long-wronged and the grieved.

And now the martyr is moving in triumphal march mightier than when alive. The nation rises at every stage of his coming, cities and states are his pall-bearers and the cannon beats the hours with solemn progression dead, DEAD, he yet speaketh! Is Washington dead, is Hamden dead, is David dead? Is any man that ever was fit to live dead? Disenthralled of flesh, and risen in the unobscured sphere where passion never comes he begins his limitless work. His life now is grafted upon the infinite, and will be fruitful as no earthly life can be. Passion, thou hast overcome! Your sorrows, oh, people are his peace! Your bells and bands and muffled drums sound triumph in his ear. Wail and weep here; God makes it echo joy and triumph there.

Pass on! Four years ago, oh, Illinois, we took from your midst an untired man and from among the people. We return him to you a mighty conqueror. Not time any more, but the nation's; not ours but the world's. Give him place, of the West, chant his requiem! Ye people, behold a martyr whose blood as so many articulate words, pleads for fidelity, for law, for liberty!

UNION TRIUMPHS IN NEW JERSEY.—The Newark Advertiser says that the tendency of public opinion in New Jersey toward a closer sympathy with the Union cause has been strikingly illustrated by the results of the Spring elections held there. There have been large Union gains in New Brunswick, of late years Democratic, the Unionists carried their city ticket by a considerable majority, in Rahway the Opposition were overwhelmingly defeated; in Camden similar gains were made; and on Monday at the first municipal election held in Morristown, the Opposition were beaten at all points by a handsome majority. Mr. George T. Cobe was elected Mayor by a majority of 119 over Augustus W. Cutler the Democratic candidate.

The following incident of the funeral procession in New York appears in the Times: Under the car there is walking a dog, though invisible from the outside, it is "Bruno" the great St. Bernard dog belonging to Edward H. Morton, Esq. He was standing with his master at the corner of Broadway and Chambers street as the car passed by when suddenly without warning and in spite of his master's call to return he sprang into the street passed beneath the car and followed its movement. By what instinct is this? For Bruno was a friend and acquaintance of Mr. Lincoln's, and has passed some time with him only a few days before his death.

THREE traitors in Cleveland who expressed joy on account of the death of President Lincoln met with merited violence at the hands of a mob. One of them a well known architect named J. F. Hubbard who had been rejoicing greatly over the event retreated to the roof of a building followed by a mob, who threw him through a skylight to a floor below then kicked him down stairs and would probably have killed him had he not been rescued by some prominent citizens.

PRESIDENT Lincoln in conversation with a gentleman about a year since on the probability of being assassinated said: Soon after I was nominated at Chicago I began to receive letters threatening my life. The first one or two made me a little uncomfortable but I came at length to look for a regular instalment of this kind of correspondence in every week's mail and up to inauguration day I was in the constant receipt of such letters and it is no uncommon thing even to receive them now but they have ceased to give me any apprehension.

The Ypsilanti Commercial,

PUBLISHED WEEKLY, BY
C. R. PATTISON.

"IT IS NECESSARY THAT THE PROPRIETOR SHOULD HAVE A HEARTY CO-OPERATION FROM HIS FELLOW-CITIZENS. THE PATRONAGE OF THE PRESS IS RIGHTLY REGARDED EVERYWHERE, AS THE TRUE INDEX OF THE INTELLIGENCE, ENTERPRISE, AND BUSINESS OF EVERY COMMUNITY WHERE NEWSPAPERS ARE ESTABLISHED. IT IS A PART OF TRUE WISDOM FOR A CITY TO ENCOURAGE ALL SUCH ENTERPRISES AS ARE CALCULATED TO SUSTAIN, ADVANCE OR PROMOTE ITS WELFARE, ITS COMMERCE, ITS INTELLIGENCE, OR ITS HONOR. LET NO MAN THINK THAT BY LETTING THE PUBLIC TAKE CARE OF ITSELF HE IS NOT NEGLECTING HIS OWN INTERESTS AND HIS HIGHEST DUTY."

The man who neglects to sustain a Home Press lacks these essential characteristics:
1st. PUBLIC SPIRIT.
2d. A TRUE REGARD FOR HIS OWN SELF INTEREST.

We are disappointed in not receiving a communication from the editor for this week. We have done the best we could, and our readers will excuse all shortcomings. We refer them to "current events" for the news of the day, and we hope none will fail to read Beecher's sermon on the death of Lincoln. It is published to the exclusion of other matter, but is worth more than anything else we would insert.

NATIONAL DEBTS AND U. S. STOCKS.

The creation of national debts is not a modern improvement, but the ability of a great nation to provide for a great debt, and to make it the most convenient and best form of personal property, is a modern wonder. The debt of Great Britain was begun by raising a million sterling by loan in 1692, and when her great contest with Louis XIV was terminated, the debt had reached fifty millions. Many statesmen and economists were then alarmed at the great burden which had been imposed upon the industry of the country, but when the war of the Austrian succession had swelled this amount to eighty millions, Macaulay says that historians and orators pronounced the case to be desperate. But when war again broke out, and the national debt was rapidly carried up to one hundred and forty millions, men of theory and business both pronounced that the fatal day had certainly arrived. David Hume said that, although by taxing its energies to the utmost, the country might possibly live through it, the experiment must never be repeated,—even a small increase might be fatal. Granville said the nation must sink under it unless some portion of the load was borne by the American Colonies, and the attempt to impose this load produced the war of the revolution, and instead of diminishing, added another hundred millions to the burden. Again, says Macaulay, was England given over, but again she was more prosperous than ever before. But when again at the close of her Napoleonic wars in 1816, this debt had been swelled up to the enormous sum of over eight hundred millions sterling, or four thousand three hundred million dollars, or nearly one half the entire property of the united kingdom, the stoutest heart, the firmest believer in national progress and national development, might well have been appalled. But in the very face of this mountain of obligation, to say nothing of her vast colonial possessions,—the property of the British nation has been more than trebled, and her debt is now a debt of but 124 per cent. against it. All that Great Britain has done in paying her debt we shall do, and more with ours. We have vast territories untouched by the plough, mines of all precious metals of which we have hardly opened the doors, a population full of life, energy, enterprise and industry, and the accumulated wealth of money and labor of the old countries pouring into the lap of our giant and ever-to-be-united republic. During the fiercest and most exhausting of all possible wars we have demonstrated our national strength—and all the world over, national strength is but another name for national credit. "As good as U. S. Stocks" will soon be synonymous the world over with "as good as British Consols." For our part we think a U. S. Treasury note, bearing seven and three-tenths annual interest, is just as much better than British Consols as the rate of interest is higher. Some of our timid brethren, who shipped their gold to London and invested in consols, are now glad to sell out and invest at home at a round loss,—and serves them right.

THE ASSASSINATION.
The following extracts need no comment. We can only say that they should not be too hastily forgotten:—"Lincoln and Davis ought to be brought to the same block together." For less offences than Mr. Lincoln had been guilty of, the English people had chopped off the head of the first Charles.—S. S. Cox.

"The people will soon rise, and if they cannot put Lincoln out by ballot, they will by the bullet."—Benj. Allen, New York Copperhead.

"We trust some bold hand will pierce his (Abraham Lincoln's) heart with a dagger point for the public good."—La Crosse Democrat.

"I have done it! I have done it!—Sic semper tyrannis!"—J. Wilkes Booth.

"Booth sincerely believed he was ridding the earth of a tyrant."—Chicago Times.

CURRENT EVENTS.

The event of the week is the capture of Jeff. Davis and Breckenridge. Davis was captured by the 4th Mich. Cavalry, Col. Pritchard. He and his family, together with his private Secretary, Postmaster Regan, and several officers were encamped near Irwinstown, Irwin Co., Ga. The first intimation they had of the close proximity of their pursuers was the firing between the 4th Mich. Cavalry and the 1st Wisconsin which mistook each other for rebels. Four men of the Wisconsin regiment and two of Col. Pritchard's men were killed before the error was discovered. On hearing the firing, Jeff. donned a dress of his wife's and started for the woods, but the devil is known by his hoof,—his boots betrayed him and he was soon overhauled. He stood at bay brandishing a huge bowie knife, but was soon brought to terms by the sight of our boy's revolvers.—He took exceptions to being pursued so closely, saying he thought our government too magnanimous to hunt down women and children. Breckenridge was captured about eleven miles from Irwin. They are to be confined in Fort Lafayette to await their trial.

We want to see Lee and Wise there too, and when the whole posse of them have been tried, convicted and hung,—then, indeed, this country will feel at rest and in comparative security, and not till then. The trial of the conspirators is progressing. The Government having made arrangements for the admission of reporters, we shall be in daily receipt of the testimony. So far it has been conclusively against them—so much so that the counsel for the defense have told their clients to give up all hope of acquittal. A scheme for emigration to Mexico is under progress which looks very much like an effort on the part of Juarez to retrieve his adverse fortunes by the help of American soldiers. The Grand Review of the armies that has been expected seems like to dwindle into a street parade at Washington.

LATEST.—A cipher note has been found in Jeff. Davis' house, comparing with one found on Booth's body, and implicating Davis and two of the men in Canada for whom rewards are offered. Mrs. Lincoln has regained her health sufficiently to go to Illinois. Gold—1304.

ANDY JOHNSON SAYS THE DEBT MUST BE PAID.
We hear that Andy Johnson who was born poor and raised poor, and is yet of the people in his property and expectations, has given the order for retrenchment and economy, and declared that the nation must go right to work to pay its debts. Good.

The National Debt has been ciphered up, and the sum total is a big one,—but the American people is a big one, too. On the 1st of July next our debt will foot up in round numbers three thousand millions. We can pay it without strain, without oppression. We can pay it, and add to our wealth.—But we have got to practice economy, public and private. We have particularly to apply economy and watchfulness to the Legislation of Congress, and to the administration of the Departments and Bureaus in Washington. The expenses of the Government must be shoved back rapidly and in good faith toward the old peace footing of 1860. We may never again get quite to that,—but let us get as near to it as we can.

The ablest statisticians in the service of the Treasury Department have been directed to measure the wealth and resources of the nation, and to calculate when it will be possible for us to pay, and probable that we will pay that immense debt of three thousand millions. They have reported that the "bottom dollar" of it can be paid in twenty years from 1870!!

Good again! Let the watchword of all politics be—PAY OFF THE NATIONAL DEBT!

PROCLAMATION.

Whereas, By the Proclamation of the 25th inst., Thursday the 25th day of next month was recommended as a day for public humiliation and prayer in consequence of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln late President of the United States, but whereas my attention has been called to the fact that the day aforesaid is sacred to large numbers of Christians as one of rejoicing for the ascension of our savior, now therefore, be it known that I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States do hereby suggest that the religious services recommended as aforesaid should be postponed until Thursday the first day of June next.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.—Done at the city of Washington, the 29th day of April A D 1865 and of the independence of the States the 89th.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

U. S. 7-30 LOAN!

The sale of the first series of $300,000,000 of this Loan was completed on the 31st day of March. The sale of the second series of 300,000,000, payable three years from the 15th of June, 1865, was begun on the 1st of April. In the short space of thirty days, over a hundred millions have been sold. The interest is payable semi-annually in currency, on the 15th of December and the 15th of June by coupons attached to each note, which are readily cashed anywhere. It amounts to

One cent per day on a $50 note.	$500

POPULAR LOAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The 7-30 notes are convertible at the option of the holder into United States 5-20 Six per cent. Gold Bearing Bonds.

FREE FROM TAXATION.

The 7-30 notes cannot be taxed by towns, cities, counties or States and the interest is not taxed unless on a surplus of the owner's income exceeding $600 a year. This fact increases their value from 1 to 3 per cent. per annum according to the rate levied on other property.

SUBSCRIBE QUICKLY.

Less than $300,000,000 of the loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.—This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will be subscribed for within four months, and then the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing subscriptions to other loans.

It now seems probable that no considerable amount will be offered to the public after this series.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks and private bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions and par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only will be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

the right for which I have purchased. The following are some of its advantages:

FIRST.—The Goodenough Horseshoe is the first and only shoe ever offered to the public, made by machinery, based upon Nature's laws, which never lie.—This is the only Convex and Concave shoe ever made, either by hand or machinery, and is as near the natural foot as art can at present make a horseshoe.

SECOND.—It is a perfect non-interfering shoe. Horses require no round bar shoe where this can be had, as this shoe is formed with the ground surface immediately under the wall or rim of the foot, thus making it a pleasant blow and easy tread for horses on pavement, ice, or any kind of roads.

THIRD.—It is a positive preventative for interfering, overreaching, bruised or contracted heels, thrush, and all diseases of the hoof—as this shoe stimulates and expands the whole foot, keeping it healthy, and requiring no stuffing or ointments of any kind.

Election.

It may not be generally known by our citizens that an election has taken place this week, but such is the fact. Two vacancies for Aldermen were to be filled in the second ward by the resignation of Enoch Yost, and the removal from the ward of Henry Moore. A tie between the two candidates occurred at the Spring election, and now both are installed—Mr. Dimick for one year and Mr. Stevens for two. In the third ward also a vacancy for alderman had to be filled, to which Henry Martin was elected over Jennings by a majority.

Invest.

All you can "rake and scrape" in a 7-30 note at our National bank, and benefit your Government and yourself at the same time. A new series of $300,000,000 was issued on the first of April, nearly half of which has been taken, and now may be your last chance for it is very evident no more will be offered. The subscription to the loan on last Wednesday was over a million and a half. Be sure to read the article headed "National Debts and United States Stocks."

New Hay Press.

Mr. G. Darling has just completed a large building on what is known as the fair ground, in the eastern part of the city, preparatory to carrying on an extensive hay pressing business. He has fitted up a new improved "Beater" Hay Press, invented and manufactured by L. & P. K. Dederick, of Albany, N. Y., which far exceeds any other Beater Press in use. It is worked with but one horse, with a sweep of only ten feet radius, and a bale of hay is pressed in seven revolutions, thus performing double the work, with one-half the power of any other press.

Look Out.

Almost every time a train passes along the road east of the depot we hear the whistle for stock on the track. The fences along that part of the road should be looked to, for not only are the cattle thus running at large on dangerous, but the lives of railway passengers.

Funeral.

Mr. Harvey Spafford of the 1st Regiment Mechanics and Engineers, was buried with Masonic honors on Wednesday last. He returned from the south on account of sickness but a few months since, and has been gradually sinking until Monday last, when he died.

Resignation.

Rev. W. R. Northrop, pastor of the Baptist Church in Plymouth informs of his resignation, and says the Lord has very much blessed his efforts while there.

Our thanks are due to Prof. J. M. B. Still for the 22nd annual Report of the Board of Education.

Ann Arbor Items.

The Courier comes to us much improved and well filled with good reading matter, under the administration of the new proprietor, A. W. Chase, M. D. In his salutatory he says he makes few words and fewer pledges, that there may be a better prospect of his keeping both. We think he is just the man to make a live paper of the Courier.

Mr. J. I. Thompson has received the re-appointment of Postmaster.

The annual Fair of the W. C. A. & H. S. is fixed for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, October 4th, 5th and 6th. A liberal list of premiums is offered.

A Unitarian church society has been formed. A regular minister is expected, and as soon as practicable a church will be built.

The father of Rev. E. O. Haven, President of the University, died at his residence near Boston on the 10th inst.

A new Insurance Company is forming, to be called "The Western Mutual Life and Travelers Insurance Co."

A Mr. O'Brien was killed on Friday last, from being run over by the cars between Dexter and Ann Arbor.

"Look on this picture and on that."

Here you behold the infirm step, Pallid cheek, wasting form, Untasted food, and a social atmosphere Poisoned with the tales of aches' pains, Sleepless nights, and mental despondency. There, laughing health and sparkling eyes, Elastic step, craving appetite, fondle care. Show the contrast and mark the picture. And here the secret lies, that Unknown to Quackdoctors the Doctor, Smith had taken bottles three Of DR. KEE'S PLANTATION BITTERS.

Butler's Fiasco.

At Fort Fisher, was scarcely a greater failure than is daily made by most of the advertised hair dyes, nor was TERRY & PORTER'S VICTORY more complete, perfect and glorious, than the conquest achieved by CHRISTADORE'S HAIR DYE over grey, red, and sandy heads of hair. The obnoxious hue is wiped out in five minutes, and a magnificent brown or black, glossy and natural, takes its place. Manufactured by J. CHRISTADORE, No. 6 Astor House, New York. Sold by all Druggists. Applied by all Hair-Dressers.

A few reasons why the American Watch is the Best.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, by hand. While their labor cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anacres," "lepinies," "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH.

Instead of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of solid plates. No jar interfere with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding, or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—1st, Accurate; 2d, Simple; 3d, Strong; 4th, Economy.

We not only secure Cheapness by our system but Quality.

We do not pretend that our watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value, it is sold at one-half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Elery).

It is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH.

(named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out.

is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship is quite small, but very neat and warranted to keep time.

OUR YOUNG GENTLEMEN'S WATCH is neat, not large, and just the thing for the pocket of Young America.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch,

may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH

is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time keeping qualities, they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

A Card to Invalids.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of Nervous Weakness, Early decay, diseases of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have already been cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the receipt for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, free of charge.

Please enclose a stamped envelope, addressed to yourself. Address

JOSEPH T. INMAN, STATION D, BIBLE HOUSE, New York City.

A SINGLE BOX OF BRANDRETH'S PILLS

contains more vegetable extractive matter, than 20 boxes of any pills in the world besides. 5,000 physicians use them in their practice to the exclusion of other purgatives. The first letter of their value is yet scarcely appreciated. When they are better known, sudden death and continued sickness will be of the past. Let those who know them speak right out in their favor. It is a duty which will save life.

Our race are subject to a redundancy of vitiated bile at this season, and it is as dangerous as it is prevalent; but Brandreth's Pills afford an invaluable and efficient protection. By their occasional use we prevent the collection of those impurities, which, when in sufficient quantities, cause so much danger to the health. They soon cure Liver complaint, Dyspepsia, loss of appetite, pain in the head, heart-burn, loss in the breast bone, sudden faintness and costiveness.

In The Year 1845

Mr. Mathews first prepared the VENETIAN HAIR DYE; since that time it has been used by thousands, and in no instance has it failed to give entire satisfaction.

The VENETIAN HAIR DYE is the cheapest in the World. Its price is only Fifty Cents, and each bottle contains double the quantity of dye in those usually sold for $1.

The VENETIAN DYE is warranted not to injure the hair or scalp in the slightest degree. The VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired—one that will not fade or wash out—one that is as permanent as the hair itself. For sale by all Druggists. Price 50 cents. A. I. MATHEWS, General Agent, 12 Gold St. N. Y.

Also, Manufacturer of Mathews' Hair Gloss, the best hair dressing large bottles, price 50 cents.

EDITOR COMMERCIAL.—

With your permission I wish to say to your readers that I will send by return mail to all who wish it (free) a Recipe, with full directions for making and using a simple vegetable Balm that will effectively remove in ten days, pimples, blotches, tan, freckles, and impurities of the skin, leaving it smooth and beautiful.

I will also mail free to those having bald heads or bare faces, simple directions and information that will enable them to start a full growth of luxurious hair, whiskers or moustache in less than thirty days. All applications by return mail without charge.

THOMAS F. CHAPMAN, Chemist, 831 Broadway, New York.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, Seminal weakness, etc.

Can be Cured, by one who has really cured himself and hundreds of others, and will tell you nothing but the truth. Address with stamp, EDWARD H. TRAVEL, Lock Box, Boston, Mass.

WHISKERS.—

Those wishing a fine set of whiskers, a nice moustache, or a beautiful head of glossy hair will please read the card of Thos. F. Chapman in another part of this paper. 45

FORMERLY OF NEW YORK,

are treating successfully

CHRONIC DISEASES!

ON A NEW SYSTEM,

which embraces the best and most approved methods in this and all other countries for the cure of all Chronic Diseases.

They treat successfully all nervous and neuralgic affections, all forms of scrofula, dyspepsia, diseases of the liver, consumption, all skin diseases, pulmonary consumption in its early stages, paralysis, epilepsy, Salt Rheum, Headache, heart diseases, diseases of children, and Seminal Weakness and Sexual diseases, which are carrying thousands to their graves annually.

EYE AND EAR:

They treat successfully, on a New Method, all diseases of the Eye and Ear. They have had more extensive practice and better success in the treatment of all

DISEASES OF WOMEN!

than any other physicians in America. They have cured women who have been confined to their beds for years. They never fail to cure in all its stages, no matter of how long standing. They have a sure cure for the distressing disease

RHEUMATISM

Hemorrhoids, or Piles.

They cure all diseases of the Throat and Lungs

DIPHTHERIA CURED!

They have discovered a sure and speedy cure for this terrible disease. It is also a sure cure for Stranguria, or Scald Head, which is the same disease, or a red spot, lose no time in having it attended to, as a timely treatment may save them from the horrors, sufferings and death of an open Cancer.

ATARRH CURED

They are treating Catarrh on a new system, which is a sure cure for this disease. Experience has proved that this disease cannot be cured by local treatment alone, hence the many advertised cures for Catarrh, all of which are local remedies, give relief only while the patient is using them, and never cure. Understanding the disease, we know it cannot be cured by local treatment alone, therefore we also prescribe a constitutional remedy, and by the combined local and constitutional treatment we are enabled to remove the causes of Catarrh and thereby effect

A PERMANENT CURE.

Their consultations for years have averaged from five to seven thousand a year, which gives them an experience unsurpassed by any, and equalled only by a few.

Remember, give not promises to cure all stages of disease. While all diseases are curable, if taken in season, all stages are not. Your case may be curable this week, not next—to-day, not to-morrow. Hence the danger of delay.

No case will be received where there are any Doubts of Cure or Relief.

Our Terms are Cash; hence the money must be sent with all orders for medicine. It costs from five to fifteen dollars per month to doctor with us, which includes medicines.

The poor will be favored.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Patients must write their name, State, and Post Office address plainly. All letters requiring an answer must contain a letter stamp, and be addressed to

DR. KNAPP & SON,

Drawer 6483, Chicago, Ill.

Any of the above diseases can be treated successfully by the patients describing their case in a letter, when they cannot see us.

Dr. Knapp, who will visit Ypsilanti regularly in the future, can be consulted at the Follett House, Friday, February 17th, Friday, April 14th, and Friday, June 10th.
